Dear Valued Customer,

Due to the obsolescence of critical components, we regret to inform you that the Potter 24VDC Sprinkler Alarm Strobe Horn, mode SASH-24 will be discontinued when the current component inventory is depleted over the new few months.

At this time there is no 24VDC replacement SASH. Potter does still have the 24 VDC horn/strobes, just not with the integrated Sprinkler Alarm sign.

The 120VAC version Potter model SASH-120 is still readily available.

We regret any inconvenience this may cause.

Kind Regards,

Mike Henke CET

Sprinkler Product Manager
